

PRAVARA INSTITUTE OF MEDICAL SCIENCES, LONI
(DEEMED UNIVERSITY)

COLLEGE OF PHYSIOTHERAPY

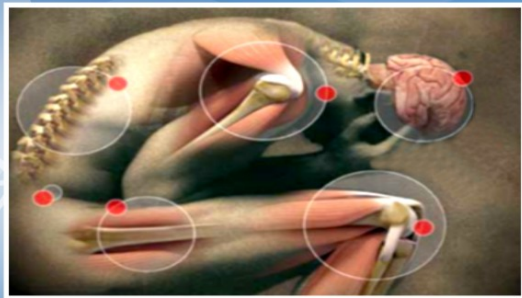

Loni - Bk - 413736, Rahata, Ahmednagar
Maharashtra (India)

Symposium on

“Integrated Pain Management”

13th Dec, 2014

Organized By
Dept. of Orthopedic Physiotherapy
Venue: Red Hall, R.M.C., Loni

Program Schedule

Time	Activity/Lecture	Resource Person
09.30	Inauguration by - Hon'ble Dr. Shashank D. Dalvi Vice Chancellor, PIMS Loni
10.00	Chronic Pain Management by Anesthetists	Dr. D. S. Divekar
10.45	Psychosomatic Pain	Dr Suprakash Chaudhary
11.30	Tea Break
12.00	Homeopathic Pain Management	Dr. Mukesh Parewal
12.45	Ayurvedic Pain Management	Dr. Manoj Runghe
13.30	Lunch Break
14.30	Nursing Perspectives of Pain	Dr. T. Sivabalan
15.15	Diet & Pain	Dr. Atharuddin Kazi
16.00	Valedictory & High Tea

Registration Fees ₹ 200/-

Dr. Ronald Prabhakar, Organizing Secretary
Contact - 02422-271489, 271468
Email: ronaldprabhakar@gmail.com

The term, "Integrative pain management," can be used to describe a broad therapeutic approach to the management of chronic pain, which attempts to combine the best of traditional treatments for pain and disability with the best of the therapies widely considered complementary or alternative. This integrative medicine approach links traditional, so-called allopathic, medical treatments with varied other treatment methods viz. physiotherapy, homeopathy, ayurveda and psychotherapy. It is a comprehensive system of medicine, which emphasizes wellness and the healing of the whole person (physical, psychological, social, and spiritual), above and beyond the treatment of any specific symptom or disease