From editor's desk:

It gives us immense pleasure to present current edition of journal which has been assigned "International Standard Serial Number" (ISSN).

The ISSN is a numeric code which is used as an identifier: it has no signification in itself and does not contain in itself any information referring to the origin or contents of the publication. The ISSN takes the form of the acronym ISSN followed by two groups of four digits, separated by a hyphen.

The eighth character is a control digit calculated according to a modulo 11 algorithm on the basis of the 7 preceding digits; this eighth control character may be an "X" if the result of the computing is equal to "10", in order to avoid any ambiguity. The ISSN is an eight-digit number which identifies periodical publications as such, including electronic serials. The ISSN is linked to a standardized form of the title of the identified serial, known as the "key title", which repeats the title of the publication, qualifying it with additional elements in order to distinguish it from other publications having identical titles (Source-International ISSN Centre).

In this issue, there are two commentaries, one review article, two original articles and three case reports. The ever desired quiz along with abstract section have also been published as used.
